Yearbook of the Students of
LOUISIANA
POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE

Ruston, Louisiana

Nan Morgan Editor

Foreword

It is the purpose of the Editorial staff to present a tangible record of scenes, legends and events that are essentially Tech---to give you as Lagniappe (something extra) this non-severable tie to your Alma Mater. A book whose purpose it is to summarize the activities and achievements of the year and to link them with the natural heritage from our state --- Lovely Louisiana.

A Tribute to the Past . . .

For forty-two years Louisiana Tech has served the State and Nation faithfully---A service best exemplified by the achievements of her Alumni.

A Prophecy of the Future

With a deep spirit and a strong desire to surpass the achievements of the past, Louisiana Tech moves on to greater glory.

To the New Building

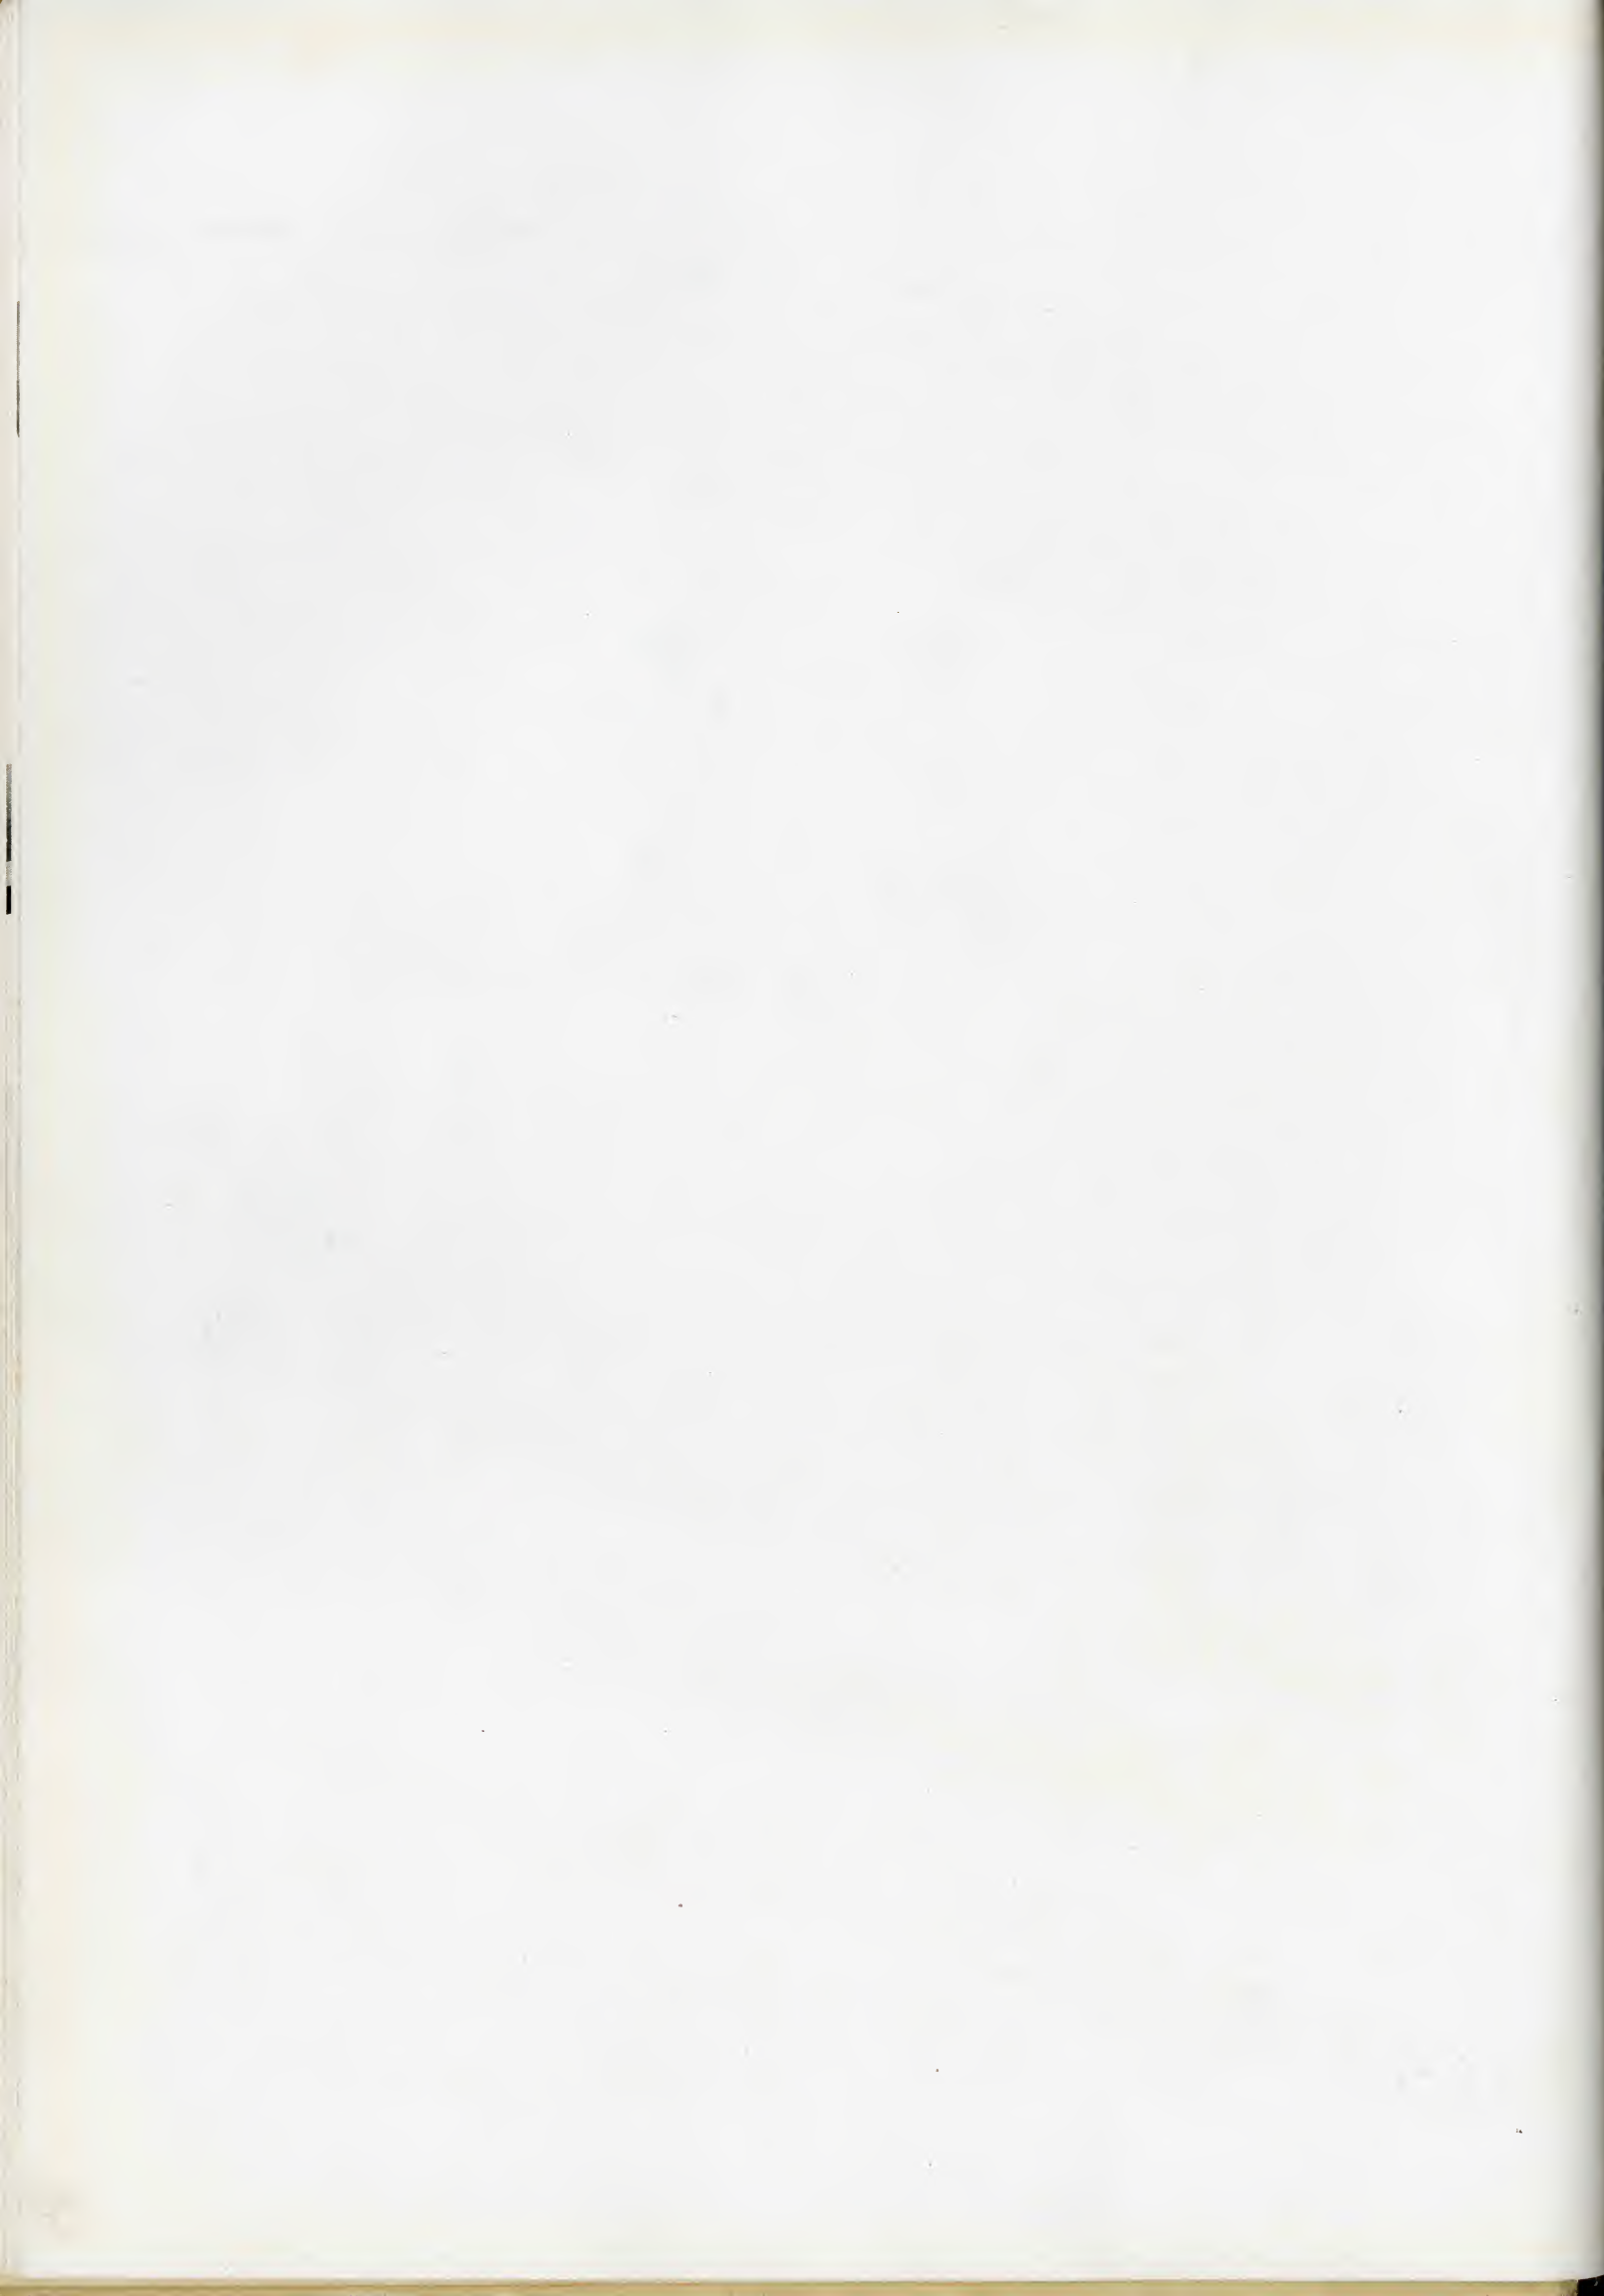

The new building program has greatly stimulated Spirit, Beauty and Progress on the Tech Campus.

ADMINISTRATION

THE PRESIDENT

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The Spirit of Louisiana Tech has always been wholesome for the reason that our products have given satisfactory service wherever located. Tech products have been made largely from pure Anglo-Saxon material coming from the best homes of the State. Our teachers are always in demand. Our Engineers are employed frequently before graduation. Arts and Science Graduates are filling important places all over the Nation.

Today we are beginning a new era. We originally faced North; now we face West. Our campus has been changed. The Leche Building has been completed, thus giving us even better opportunities for a greater service. Our Student Body is composed of serious-minded young men and young women who are imbued with the idea of usefulness. The members of our Faculty are capable and are giving the best of their lives to the work of the institution. All are laboring together to build a greater Louisiana Tech.

The "Lagniappe" is the yearbook and annual publication of the students of Louisiana Tech. Since 1934, it has been known as the only large college yearbook published solely by students without the aid of advertisements. The title "Lagniappe" is characteristic of Louisiana and means "something extra."

Kenneth F. Hewins supervises the book which is edited by a student selected by the Publications Committee.

MARDI GRAS

Climaxing an eventful week of campaigning and voting for the rulers of the Mardi Gras Court at Louisiana Tech, a gala coronation ball was held in the Women's Gymnasium on the night of Saturday, February 6.

Ruling as queen of the festivities was Peggy Moseley, who shared her throne with her chosen king, Dick Brannon. They were regally attired in robes of purple. The royal party was composed of Princess Virginia Keeny and her prince, Clem Byrd; Princess Sybil Wilson and Prince Eddie Wojecki; Princess Sara Cooper and Prince Herman Hewett; Princess Carolyn Null and Prince Lamar Stall. The gowns of the royal ladies were of white satin and their corsages were of Talisman and American Beauty roses.

The late Samuel Augustas (Gus) Dickson was made Honorary King of Tech's Fourth Annual Engineers Day held on Saturday, April 3. In commemoration of "Gus" a large portrait of him was presented to the Engineering Student Body by Davis Studio, local photographers. All arrangements for the festivities of the day were under the direction of E. H. Holstead, president of the Tech Engineers.

The "Crowning" event of the day's activities was the annual Engineers Ball at which, R. G. Hart and Georgia Grey Gwin ruled as King and Queen. Their royal party included, Helen Hays, Beryl Tebbets, Edna Terral, Charles Taylor, Camille Haley, Carl Jordan, Irene Goyne and Eddie Lomax. The ladies of the court were arrayed in pastel organies and capes of spring flowers.

THE MIKADO

Under the direction of Elbert Haskins, the Tech Opera Guild presented "The Mikado," a Gilbert Sullivan opera. The Tech Orchestra, directed by Miss Doris Haskell added much to the success of the performance.

A week long tour, February 19-26, of North Louisiana was made by the Opera Cast, the Men's Glee Club, the Band O'Glee, and the Tech Orchestra. Their itinerary included fifteen towns. E. S. Richardson, Jr., was business manager for the road trip.

The dream of hundreds of Alumni was realized early in 1937, when the students of Tech formed an organized body. For numbers of years Tech students had sought a unity whereby they could function with the Administration to the best advantage of both groups. A student body council was elected by secret ballot. The sole purpose of the body is the advancement of Tech through combined student initiative.

A quartet of coaches form the corps of assistants to Coach McLane and each has been partially responsible for the phenomenal success of Tech's athletic program.

Herb Duggins, who coaches the football ends, the basketball squad, and the track team, has justified his heavy responsibility by turning out some of the finest ends ever developed here and molding some of the best cage teams and track and field squads that ever donned the Red and Blue togs.

George "Blue" Hogg, freshmen mentor, came to Tech along with Coach McLane and has turned out the best frosh teams to ever perform here, thus building up the varsity yearly.

Mike Wells, football line coach, has consistently welded a fast, aggressive group of linesmen who have helped pave the way for the glorious gridiron victories of Tech.

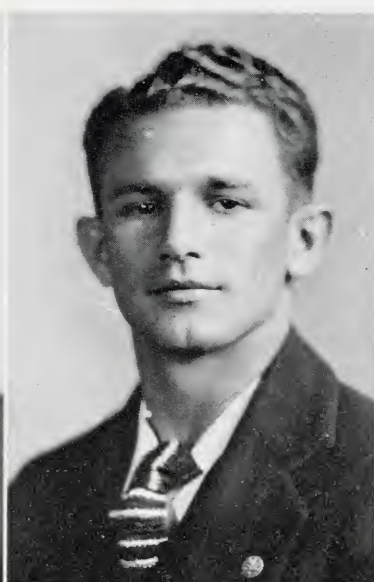

Eddie Wojecki, trainer, was affectionately dubbed "Doc" by the athletes to whom he ministered to alleviate their injuries; and his patience and efficiency has won a place in the heart of every one of the Tech athletes.

COACHES

Athletic Director Eddie McLane, shown at the right, is completing his third year at the helm of Tech's athletic department and school officials have stated that he will be "retained indefinitely."

Coming to Tech in 1934, Coach McLane has turned out better teams each year and thus has been able to draw up more attractive cards each year in all sports and has put Tech back in the athletic sun.

Aside from the successes of the various teams, Coach McLane has improved the athletic facilities considerably. A new concrete stadium was erected and equipped with lights for night contests. A wire fence was built around the football field and various beautification projects have been carried on. In addition the physical education department was enlarged and now takes care of all the men students.

FOOTBALL SEASON

With one of the most ambitious gridiron schedules ever drawn up here facing the Bulldogs, the Louisiana Tech football squad completed a season of ups and downs, winning six games, tying one and losing two, to score 153 points for the year to their opponents' 47.

Under the brilliant tutelage of Athletic Director Eddie McLane, the Ruston representatives drew high praise from loyal "fanatics" for their superb, determined efforts in all their contests.

Starting off the season, the Bulldogs trounced the West Tennessee Teachers at Ruston 44 to 0 before what has been called the largest opening-day crowd of any season here. Coach McLane used "subs" freely after stacking up a comfortable lead on the invaders. In this high-scoring battle Carroll struck "pay-dirt" thrice, and Gardner, Whitman, Hanna and Westbrook each took a trip to the "promised land."

Traveling down to Lafayette for their second game, the Techmen were forced to use all they had in their bag of tricks to overcome a 7-point lead established by Southwestern in the first half. However, the Ruston men came through in grand style and held the S.L.I. men scoreless the final half while they garnered 22 points. Massey and Mitchell each scored in the third period, and Hanna chalked up another marker in the final frame.

The result of the next game was as much a surprise to the Tech football squad as it was to the fans. A powerful group of Mississippi State Teachers invaded Ruston and taught the Techsters a thing or two as they spanked the Bulldogs, 12 to 7. Tech scored first in the second period when Wyss blocked a punt and recovered across the goal line for the score. Then the Teachers turned loose their scoring machine and it was a sad tale for the Canines. The Mississippi men scored in the second and third quarters with Patrick, their ace ballcarrier, lugging the pigskin across both times. In the final stanza Tech staged a drive that looked as if it might result in another touchdown but as the Bulldogs placed the ball on the Pedagogues' one-yard line after sparkling runs by Carroll, the timekeeper sounded his note of doom as he blew the whistle ending the game.

Leaving home again, the Techmen went to Natchitoches, where they met and subdued the Normal Demons. The final score was 32 to 0 in favor of the Bulldogs and all the alibis of the Normalites could not erase the fact that Tech possessed a top-notch team that night.

Then came that memorable classic with the Green Wave of Tulane in New Orleans. On this occasion about 600 loyal fans of the Bulldogs made the trip to the Crescent City to support the morale of the Ruston men. The largest crowd that a Tech team has ever played before witnessed the struggle, as 13,000 turned out on that warm, clear afternoon. The people of New Orleans came prepared to see the Tulane squad stage a scoring carnival. They were not disappointed the first quarter as Tulane, led by their efficient Bill Mattis, scored three touchdowns and a safety for a total of 22 points. But all that took place in the first quarter. What happened thereafter drew praise from all the sports commentators in New Orleans and the loyal Greenies even admitted that they were surprised. Tech scored two touchdowns in the fourth period, not on the second string, but on that highly-touted first team that had not been defeated at that time. Rajcan tore through the line of the Greenies, batted up an attempted pass by Mattis, caught the ball, and ran across the goal line for the first score. That was the beginning. A few minutes later, Mitchell tossed the pigskin to Trimble for 35 yards and Trimble ran the remaining 23 yards for a touchdown. Then the Tech supporters went wild and yelled themselves hoarse, clamoring for victory, but Tulane gathered its dazzled forces and held the Techmen the rest of the game. But the fans were more than pleased with the performance of the Bulldogs who had been the first to score two touchdowns against the then-invincible Wave.

In their own backyard for the next game, the Bulldogs met a strong aggregation of University of Tampa Spartans from Tampa, Fla., who almost played the Techmen to a scoreless tie as they held Tech scoreless for 53 minutes. Then with a few minutes left to play, Mitchell heaved a pass to Summerall across the goal line for the score, giving the Ruston men a 6-to-0 victory.

Two factors drove the Techsters to victory in the next game, which was played against the Mississippi Millsaps Majors. First, it was Homecoming Day with about 4,500 persons watching that struggle, and secondly, and most important, this was the only team that had defeated Tech the previous season. Tech took the measure of the Majors, 13 to 0, as they scored in the first and final periods. The first touchdown came as the result of a 65-yard run by Hanna across the last stripe. The next score was made by Mitchell when he intercepted a pass on the Majors' 35-yard line and ran for a touchdown.

The great fluke of the season for the Bulldogs was their appearance against the Louisiana College Wildcats here which resulted in a 6-6 tie. The Cats had been pointing for Tech all season and they proceeded to turn loose everything they had with the deadlock resulting. The Cats scored first in the initial period as Whatley carried the ball over for a score. The Bulldogs did not score until the final period as Hanna made a 42-yard pass to Williamson for a touchdown.

In their final game of the season here against the Illinois Wesleyan Titans on Thanksgiving Day, the Canines performed the spectacular and scored two touchdowns in less than one minutes of actual playing time and that was all the scoring by either side in that game as Tech won, 12 to 0. In the third period, Hanna passed to Roach for a touchdown. For some strange reason the Titans then decided to kick-off. They soon saw the error of their ways as Hanna took the ball on his own three-yard line and with his teammates forming a wege-shaped interference he ran straight down the field for a touchdown, the first time since 1931 that such a feat had been performed at Tech.

FOOTBALL SEASON

Home Coming Day

Home Coming Queen

Miss Nettie Faye Cooper of Ruston was selected by the "T" Club, the organization of the lettermen of Tech, to reign over the annual Homecoming Day festivities on Saturday, November 14.

Tech met the Mississippi Millsaps Majors as a highlight of the day's activities and spurred on by the 4,500 yelling "fanatics" and seeking revenge because the Majors were the only team to defeat them the previous season, the Bulldogs subdued the invaders 13 to 0.

The royal party consisting of Maid Rosemary Breed, Maid Carolyn Cupp, Maid Eleanor Mitchell, Queen Nettie Faye Cooper, and Maid Ruby Chandler.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE DAY

1. Hanna making one of the two touchdowns registered by the Bulldogs against the Majors.
2. Queen Nettie Faye Cooper presenting the football to be used in the contest to Tech's captain, "Mohawk" Phillips, as the Millsaps captain looks on.
3. Tech's band on parade through the town in pre-game ceremonies.
4. Float with queen and maids making their entrance on the football field.
5. Coach McLane having a watch fastened on him by Captain Phillips and Co-Captain Mitchell. The watch was given to Coach McLane by the Ruston Chamber of Commerce.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Under the able direction of Coach George "Blue" Hogg, the Louisiana Tech freshmen squad played two intercollegiate games, winning one and tying the other.

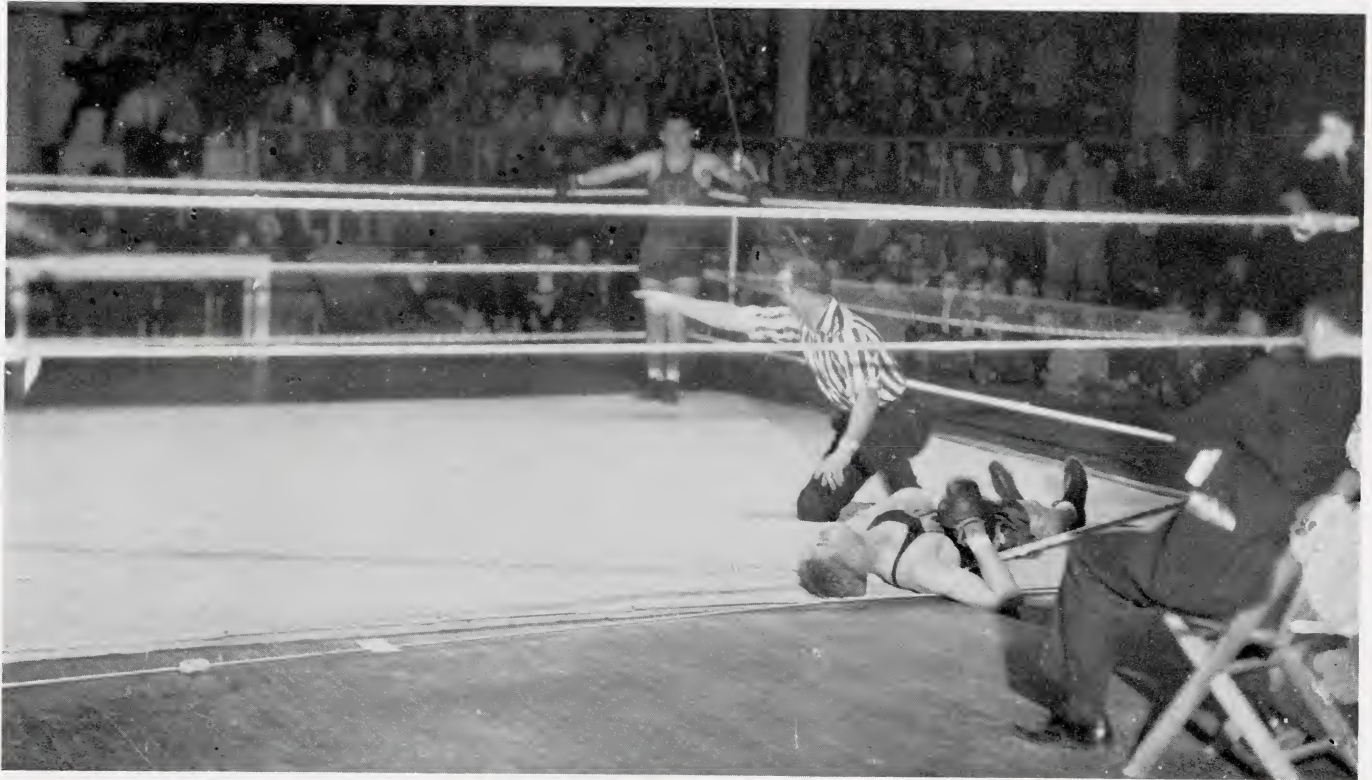

Although the squad was comparatively small this season the players were of the type that could and did go the full sixty minutes in their contests. This rugged, hard-charging, and speedy group of football men will be a valuable addition to the varsity squad next year when even bigger and better teams will be played by the Techmen.

Opening their season against the Normal Imps, the Bullpups looked them over and took their measure 16 to 0. Normal had a tough time trying to keep their men from being battered by the line-smashing tactics of the Pups and the Imps had to resort to frequent substitutions but the Tech frosh played for 53 minutes before a substitution was made.

The other battle was with the Centenary Little Gents who held the Pups to a scoreless tie. Neither team ever seriously threatened to score as the two teams see-sawed up and down the field.

The freshmen numeral winners included: Emmett Hall, Carroll Floyd, Pat Meeks, R. B. Basco, Joe Eagar, Emile Nogaskey, Victor Blodgett, Gordon Adams, H. W. Leach, and L. H. Rogers.

RESUME

With a group of hoopsters composed in the main of sophomores, the Louisiana Tech basketball squad played a schedule of nineteen games, winning nine, and losing ten, scoring a total of 586 points to their opponents' 698.

The Canines, under the supervision of Coach Herb Duggans, used the Wisconsin type of play which features a fast-breaking offense and a man-to-man defense.

Starting off their season here, the Bulldogs were the victors over Illinois college by a close score. But a road journey that pitted them against Louisiana college, Southwestern, Tulane, and Loyola twice left the Techsters "in the red" as they were only able to defeat S. L. I. and Loyola once.

Coming back to Ruston, the Canines met the Gents from Centenary, who took their measure easily. Back on the road again for a pair of games with L. S. U. in Baton Rouge, the Ruston lads were trounced by the Tigers in both contests. Their next encounter in Ruston was a loss to the Normal Demons. Playing in Shreveport, the T-men were again beaten by Centenary. A series of six games at their own lair turned out rather well for the Bulldogs, who won four and lost two. They defeated Southwestern, Mississippi State Teachers, Louisiana college, and Loyola. They were downed by Centenary and Loyola. A second trip to Shreveport that closed out the four-game series with the Gents resulted in another loss by the Bulldogs. Their last encounter of the season was an overwhelming victory for the Normal Demons.

The Tech squad members included Brooks Bradford, Homer Lee Coody, Earl Cole, Frank Smith, S. X. Lewis, Elmer Henslee, J. M. Nicholson, Charles Caston, Fred Miller, W. A. Jones, Thomas Humble, and Clayton Kirksey.

RESUME OF BOXING

With a comparatively new set of fighters, the Louisiana Tech ring warriors finished a schedule of seven matches, of which they won two, tied three, and lost two.

The Bulldog battlers were coached by Eddie Wojecki, who introduced intercollegiate boxing here last year. Coach Wojecki was faced with the task of moulding a fresh group of men into shape for their bouts as Don Wiley and Ben Gill were the only lettermen to return for regular practice on the squad of '37.

The Ruston ring masters fought to a 4-4 draw in their first two battles, the opener with Southwestern in Lafayette, and the second with the Centenary Gentlemen in Ruston.

The next two rounds of bouts were marked up as victories for the Red and Blue bearers as they beat Southwestern in Ruston, 5 to 3, and downed the highly-touted Oklahoma A. & M. fighters here 5½ to 2½.

Centenary "took the starch" out of the Techmen in the next battle in Shreveport as the Gents measured the Ruston squad 6½ to 1½.

A brace of matches with the Northeast Center Indians resulted in a 5 to 3 victory for the Indians in Monroe and the second round of bouts resulted in a 4 to 4 draw in Ruston.

GOLF

1937

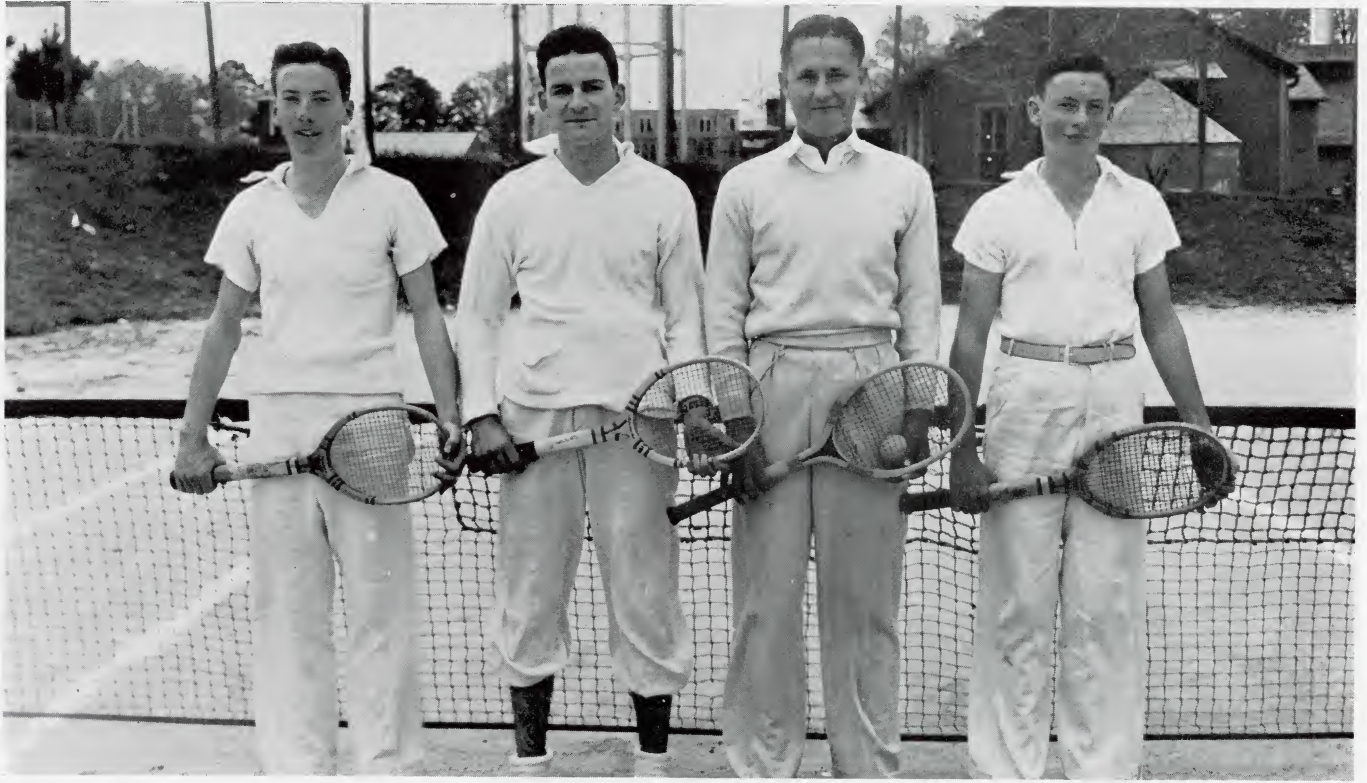

Under the sponsorship of H. J. Sachs, the Louisiana Tech divot diggers have been working-out on various golf links in anticipation of a successful season. They have been the guests of golf organizations in Ruston, Jonesboro, Hodge, and Monroe.

With three lettermen returning prospects for a winning team loom very bright. Jack Armstrong, Billy Thurmon, Fred Hines are the returning veterans and their experience coupled with the driving ability of Emmett Hall and W. R. McDonald should prove to be a winning combination.

1937 GOLF SQUAD

Hall, Hines, Thurmon, and McDonald. (Armstrong not present for picture.)

Butler, Drew, Brannon, and Fouche.

With a senior, a sophomore, and two freshmen as squad members, the Louisiana Tech tennis team will suffer from inexperience but should prove to be a more formidable foe as the season advances.

Although none of the players are lettermen, they represent the cream of the net crop at Tech. The members include: Elmer Butler, Harmon Drew, Dick Brannon, Billy Fouche, and Odell Schilling.

The team was under the sponsorship of R. L. Mondy.

Capital punishment was good enough for my father, it's good enough for me.

He's so green that if he had three leaves he'd be a shamrock.

I've been down in the cyclone cellar reading "Gone With The Wind."

Listen, I'm still horizontal at 7:30 in the morning.

I got zero, but that's nothing.

I was sent to the end of the class yesterday, but I like it back there by the radiator.

Then it's a date for us not to meet tomorrow.

We've had a pleasant evening, but this wasn't it.

Well, until yesterday, hello.

Don't mind him, he either thinks out loud or not at all.

It's a little crude. What? A little crude.

A job doesn't mean any more to me than my right lung.

Listen "trickle." Where did you get that "trickle" stuff? Well, if you would show a little more life I might call you "squirt."

Is this Rudy Vallee or do we need a new tube?

They pick up lost golf balls out here before they stop rolling.

Telegram for Mr. Neidspondiavanci. What initial please?

A freshman's favorite: "The Melody in F."
Morning Herald! Morning, Bud.

What have you been doing? Shooting craps. That must stop, those little things have as much right to live as you do.

He can't sit down in front, he's just not made that way.

I'm so mad I could grind out my fillings. If I were milk I'd curdle.

He knocked out a whole smile full of teeth. He shed a mouth full.

Will you do me a favor? No, why should I break a leg?

Shall we start talking about boys or just let them come into the conversation naturally?

May I kiss you? I'd rather be nibbled by ducks.

When a man tries to pick you up just look cross-eyed at him.

Let's eat up the street. No, I don't like asphalt.

I fell off a 60 foot ladder, that is, the bottom step.

You're breaking my heart and anyway I don't believe you.

Are you losing weight or did you get a haircut?

He has the thickest, curliest hair I've seen off a spaniel.

Thank you, hello some more.

If you think that's an expression think of George Arliss sucking a lemon.

The Revival of Learning started the night before exams.

Been reading Longfellow. No, just about fifteen minutes.

I've put my whole mind into this poem and it's still blank verse.

A horse with his head hanging down is like Monday because it's neck's weak.

His head is just like a doorknob, anyone can turn it.

Kisses speak volumes, let's start a library.

My people won't be surprised when I graduate, they've been expecting it for years.

It will be a battle of brains, dear, how brave of you to go unarmed.

Who do you think you are? Oh I'm just a little dandruff trying to get a head.

In order to prevent the guests from carrying fruit from the table, there will be no fruit.

Old and feeble men will not be allowed to play in the halls.

Students wishing fine board will find sawdust in the Wigwam.

My coat has nine buttons, but I will only fascinate.

No, I'm not sweeping out the room, only the dirt, I'll leave the room.

Oh I suppose I could learn to love you, I learned to eat spinach.

How do you find yourself these mornings? Oh, I just throw the covers back and there I am.

You aren't mad, have I?

It's a case of mind over matter, I don't mind and you don't matter.

Stay away a little closer will you?

Is that something over there we know?

Hello, officially.

I've known him since sister pushed him in the bird bath.

Do you sleep with that face on?

I don't know anything about him and it's all bad.

The coach wants him to go in and kick off but he's too young to die.

You look like an accident going somewhere to happen.

It opened with a bang, someone dropped a bomb in the balcony.

Who is that taking my name in vain and not taking off his hat?

You Nit Wit. That's a Needle. What? Something you Nit Wit.

Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, I don't get it.

I get it. Keep it.

In the Gold Room of the CCC Club House.

Listen, you male Shirley Temple.

I'm so mad I could eat chicken.

I'd hate to have your nerve in a tooth.

Want to kiss me now or can you wait that long?

I'll kiss you now, nothing makes me sick.

Do you think I'm broke or who told you?

Heave to. Heave three or four.

You said a gutter full.

You took the words right out of my bridge work.

Heigh ho, everybody, but I'll pay.

The difference between your brains and the Notre Dame team is that there is a Notre Dame team.

You're the kind of nut I'd like to crack.

Nightie, nightie, see you in the wash.

Authors Note: If you have heard any of these over the radio, think nothing of it. That is probably where I got them.

Blue books and Pink slips
And after that a D(?)
May there be no ladies at the Bar
When I start on my spree!

Someone ran up the clock
Was it man or mouse?

There are students on this campus
That make me philosophically sigh,
They have a gnat's ambition
To be in the public eye.

Breathes there a stude with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said
When faintly hearing the tardy bell,
Words that rhyme with Ham and Dell?

THE RAVING

Once upon a midnight dreary, while I staggered drunk and bleary
After many a cold and potent bottle from the days of yore.
As I stumbled nearly falling, suddenly there came a calling
As of someone loudly bawling, bawling like a stricken boar
"'Tis another drunk" I muttered, "making such a loud uproar,
Only this and nothing more,"

With my mind in utmost chaos, having lately come from Bruno's
And each separate glass of beer wrought its havoc in my soul.
Eagerly I washed the morrow; lately I had found with horror
That all the money I could borrow—borrow for the festive bowl,

For the long and gay carousing which is fatal to the soul,
Had departed here for evermore.

Then the dimness caused by beering suddenly began a clearing,
"Sir," I said, "or Madam, truly your forgiveness I implore;

But the fact is I've been brawling, and into such depths been falling,
And so abruptly you came bawling, bawling like a stricken boar,

That I scarce was sure it happened"—here my eyes I opened more—

Darkness there and nothing more.

Deep into the darkness peering, long I stood there swaying, sneering,

Leaning at an angle at which no mortal ever leaned before.

But the sidewalk was unlighted, and my mind was so much blighted

That I forgot to be affrighted when the breeze no answer bore;

When the breeze returned the echo of the words I said before.

Merely this and nothing more.

Back into the gutter turning with the beer within me churning.

Soon again I heard a calling somewhat louder than before

"Surely," said I laughing gently, and then listening more intently,

"It would behoove me to arise and mystery explore —

Let me clamber to my feet and this mystery explore—

'Tis the wind and nothing more."

Climbing upward from the gutter and when my eyes began to flutter,

Up there stepped a pinken elephant from the real days of yore.

Not the least obeisance made he, not a moment stopped or stayed he

But with manner unafraid he joined me while
I softly swore,

While I wildly gazed upon him and beneath my breath I swore.

Swore and stared and nothing more.

Then this pastel beast beguiling my sad fancy
into smiling,

By the stern and grave decorum of the countenance it wore

"Though my eyes be dim and faint, thou,"
I said, "art no saint,

And your tail is more than quaint, being not behind but before.

Oh thou large and rotund creature whose tail
I cower before."

Quoth the elephant "Nevermore."

Startled by the stillness broken by a beast
that ne'er had spoken;

Through the ages the elephant never spoke a syllable before,

And to hear this strange beast mutter indeed
did make my bosom flutter,

To hear this beast distinctly utter such a word
as "Nevermore."

To be forced to sit and hear it utter such a word
as "Nevermore"

Only this and nothing more.

Thus I sat engaged in guessing but no syllable expressing,

(The beast had joined me when I returned to the gutter once more)

As I studied this creature I wondered where in all salvation

The damned thing got the sweet carnation that
I now perceived it wore.

Fresh and sweet for evermore.

Now if you don't mind I'll sorta try to make this story shorter;

Enough to say this beast it followed me to my door,

And you cannot help agreeing that no earthly human being

Ever yet was blessed with seeing such a queer old beast before—

Ever yet was blessed by seeing such a pink elephant before.

The brute shall leave me nevermore.

Now this elephant never flitting, still is sitting,
still is sitting

On an empty whiskey bottle just behind my chamber door;

And my eyes have all the seeming of a drunkard that is dreaming,

And the lamplight o'er him streaming throws
his shadow on the floor,

And my D. T's from out that shadow that lies floating on the floor

Shall be lifted, nevermore.
